SPEAKERS & CONTENT

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

AMBASSADOR

LJUBICA Z. ACEVSKA

First Ambassador of the Republic of Macedonia to the U.S.A.

Ambassador Ljubica Z. Acevska served as the first Ambassador of the newly independent Republic of Macedonia (North Macedonia) to The United States of America. During her tenure, she successfully established diplomatic relations between the two countries and played a key role in advancing Macedonia's global presence, including overseeing its membership in the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, and serving as a Delegate to the United Nations General Assembly.

Born in Capari, Macedonia, Ambassador Acevska immigrated to the United States with her family at the age of nine and was raised in Mansfield, Ohio. She has been featured in several books on diplomacy, and has received numerous recognitions, including the Alumni Medalist Award from her alma mater The Ohio State University in 1996 for "International Distinction In Service To Humanity."

Acevska is currently President of Pencils 4 Kids International, a nonprofit organization that provides school supplies to children around the world. She is also a public speaker and a Life Coach. In support of United Macedonian Diaspora (UMD), the United States' leading voice for Macedonian-Americans, she helped establish the Acevska Congressional Internship Program through a generous gift.

Resilience, Reimagined:
Navigating One's Career and Life
Ambassador Ljubica Z. Acevska

Ambassador Acevska's keynote, Resilience, Reimagined: Navigating One's Career and Life, explores what it truly means to be resilient—to adapt, lead, and grow through change. Drawing from her experience in diplomacy and public service, the Ambassador will share insights on navigating complex career paths, overcoming barriers, and embracing identity as a source of strength. It will challenge traditional ideas of resilience, offering a powerful perspective on how women can redefine success, lead with purpose, and create lasting impact across industries and communities.

SPECIAL GUEST REMARKS

AMBASSADOR

ZORAN POPOV

Ambassador of the Republic of Macedonia (N. Macedonia) to the U.S.A.

Ambassador Zoran Popov MA is a career member of the Foreign Service since 1998, spending most of his carrier in the European Union Directorate at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, advancing gradually through the ranks from Junior Desk Officer to Deputy Head of Sector for Political Relations with the European Union and taking active part in the drafting of vital documents in the European integration process of the Republic of North Macedonia, as well as the country's process of visa liberalization with the European Union.

Between 2003 and 2008, Mr. Popov served a diplomatic term at the Mission of the Republic of North Macedonia to the European Union in Brussels. From September 2016 to October 2019, he was assigned to the post of Senior Political Advisor at the Regional Cooperation Council (RCC) in Sarajevo, being tasked with promoting the political cooperation between the Southeast European Cooperation Process (SEECP) participating states and assisting the Euro-Atlantic integration of the Western Balkan countries, coupled with lending political support in the implementation of the Multi-Annual Action Plan on Regional Economic Integration (MAP REA).

He served most recently as a State Secretary at the Ministry for Foreign Affairs, from 2019 to 2022. In August 2022 he was appointed Ambassador of the Republic of North Macedonia to the USA.

Ambassador Popov holds a master's degree in international relations from the University of Westminster in London. He has completed a series of training courses and seminars on European integration and the EU accession negotiations process, on justice and home affairs as well as for senior officers in the civil service, while also spending the period between October 2000 and March 2001 as a trainee at the European Commission in Brussels.

9:50 AM – 11:30 AM

PRESERVING OUR ROOTS & BALANCING IDENTITY

Our heritage shapes who we are, but living in the diaspora often requires balancing cultural traditions with the demands of our environment and modern life. This conversation explores what it means to be Macedonian in the diaspora, centering on identity, tradition, and growth. Through personal stories, speakers reflect on balancing cultures, the role of women in preserving heritage, and how storytelling - alongside mentorship and experiences like Birthright Macedonia - helps keep our history alive and strengthens our connection to our roots. It is a dialogue on honoring the past while shaping the future.

PANELIST

DR. KRISTINA BUNDRA

Scientific Communications Lead at Inhibrx Biosciences; UMD Global Secretary and Member of the Board
Conference Planning Committee

Dr. Kristina Bundra comes from a family with Macedonian and Serbian roots. She earned her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from MCPHS University in Boston, MA where she graduated summa cum laude and was a distinguished member of the Rho Chi Society (Pharmaceutical Honor Society). She went on to complete a Post-Doctoral Pharmaceutical Industry Fellowship Program through Rutgers University. She has since spent the majority of her professional career in the pharmaceutical industry working on scientific advances in the Oncology and Rare Disease landscape. She has held positions growing in leadership at Bristol-Myers Squibb, Bayer, and more recently Inhibrx.

Kristina has a longstanding history of being involved and has taken an active role with organizations serving individuals with unmet needs from the National Organization for Rare Disorders, patient advocacy organizations, and the Novak Djokovic Foundation. In 2023, Kristina joined the United Macedonian Diaspora (UMD) Board and was elected Global Secretary in 2024. She has taken a very active role in advancing UMD's initiatives for the ultimate benefit of Macedonia and is passionate about making a positive impact in supporting her heritage. She was a recipient of the UMD 40 Under 40 Award in September 2025.

PANELIST

ZANA KENJAR

Founder of ZK Publishing House; Author; Leadership Consultant

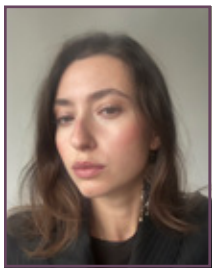

Zana Kenjar is the Founder of ZK Publishing House, leadership consultant, and author of the international bestseller Becoming a Legacy Leader. Before launching her publishing work, she spent more than twenty years in the corporate banking industry, holding senior roles including Regional Services Senior Consultant, where she worked closely with executives and leadership teams.

Her professional path took a deeply personal turn following the loss of her brother to cancer. During that difficult time, Zana began writing as a way to process the experience and support others facing similar challenges.

She is also the author of Standing Together Against Cancer, a heartfelt book written in honor of her brother that offers forty compassionate suggestions for supporting loved ones through illness with strength, love, and hope. The book was recently published in Macedonian by Bata Press in Skopje and is available in bookstores across Macedonia.

Originally from Macedonia, Zana came to the United States as a young immigrant. Today, through ZK Publishing House, she helps professionals, entrepreneurs, and immigrant leaders transform their life experiences into meaningful books that inspire others and build lasting legacy.

PANELIST

DONA TODOROVSKA

Sustainable Fashion Strategist and Brand Development Professional

Dona Todorovska is a fashion professional and sustainability advocate whose work explores the relationship between cultural identity, craftsmanship, and contemporary fashion. Born in the United States to Macedonian heritage, her perspective has been shaped by a deep curiosity about how traditions, stories, and ancestral knowledge continue to influence modern creative industries.

She holds a Bachelor's degree in Finance and Business from DePaul University and a Master's degree in Sustainable Fashion from Polimoda in Florence, Italy. Her studies and professional experience have taken her across the United States and Europe, where she has worked with emerging and established fashion brands across luxury retail, wholesale, and brand development.

Alongside her work in the fashion industry, Dona has participated in international conversations around sustainability and innovation, including speaking engagements in Florence focused on ethical business practices and the future of responsible fashion.

Her interests lie in understanding how heritage, craft traditions, and cultural identity can inform a more thoughtful and human approach to fashion. Through her work, she hopes to contribute to conversations about preserving cultural roots while building more conscious and globally connected creative industries.

MODERATOR

IVANA KARATASEVA

Global Partnerships and Programs Manager at UMD
Conference Planning Committee

Ivana Karataseva serves as the Global Partnerships and Programs Manager at the United Macedonian Diaspora (UMD), where she leads initiatives that strengthen connections across the Macedonian diaspora and support the next generation of global Macedonian leaders. Through her work, she focuses on developing partnerships, organizing international programs, and creating opportunities that empower young professionals and strengthen community engagement.

Originally from Skopje, Macedonia, Ivana immigrated to the United States with her family in 2007 and grew up in New York City and the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania. She graduated from East Stroudsburg University of Pennsylvania in 2024 with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and Philosophy and a minor in Sociology. During her studies, she mentored fellow students, worked on political campaigns, and studied abroad in South Africa and China. Her academic research explored women in leadership and the social and personal factors that contribute to leadership development.

Ivana's international experiences — including an internship with an education nonprofit in South Africa and studying Chinese philosophy in China — deepened her passion for human rights, international law, and cross-cultural understanding. Now based in New York City, she remains committed to building bridges across communities and fostering meaningful opportunities for engagement within the Macedonian diaspora.

REIMAGINING HEALTH AND EVERYDAY WELLBEING

SPEAKER

DANICA I LEPOJEVIKJ

Founder & CEO, Astarta; Psychologist; Maternal Health Expert

Danica is a Transformational Mentor and Holistic Birth & Maternity Educator, with professional experience as a psychologist, doula, breastfeeding counselor, yoga teacher, and one of the region's leading advocates for maternal well-being and human rights in childbirth. She is also published and awarded poet and writer.

For more than 25 years, she has worked in personal development, and for the past 14 years she has focused on supporting pregnant women, mothers, and families—working with over 2,000 clients through education, counseling, and institutional collaboration.

Her work includes partnerships with the Ministry of Health, the Red Cross, UNICEF, and maternal health organizations across the Balkans on initiatives to improve care and support for mothers and babies.

Astarta is the result of these years of research and practice, merging psychology, maternal care, and digital innovation. Building on extensive offline and online work, Danica is now leading the development of a holistic, AI-driven, multilingual maternal care platform with a long-term vision for transforming maternal care globally.

Mind, Body, Equity: Reimagining Health and Everyday Wellbeing
Danica I Lepojevikj

Danica I. Lepojevikj challenges us to rethink wellness for women by exploring the systemic, cultural, and personal barriers that shape health experiences. Moving from permission to sovereignty, she highlights how reactive self-care, societal expectations, and inequities in healthcare access can undermine wellbeing. She emphasizes the power of education, peer support, storytelling, and culturally sensitive resources to reclaim autonomy. Attendees will gain insights into recognizing patterns in their health and discover practical strategies to nurture holistic wellbeing, build resilience, and foster everyday confidence.

2:15 – 3:00 PM
BREAKING BARRIERS: LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT & EMPOWERMENT

Stepping into leadership often requires overcoming challenges and defying expectations. This conversation highlights the experiences of women navigating professional barriers while balancing cultural and societal pressures. Attendees will gain insights into building confidence, advocating effectively, and leading with purpose. It also explores strategies for personal growth and expanding influence within professional spaces, helping women confidently navigate their careers and make a lasting impact.

PANELIST

GABRIELA DIMITROVA

Business Performance Advisor at Insperity

Gabriela Dimitrova is a Business Performance Advisor with almost 2 decades of professional experience in the United States, spanning the automotive industry, financial services, and HR strategy. Her career reflects a deep commitment to helping organizations grow with intention, resilience, and people-centered leadership.

Originally from Macedonia, Gabriela graduated from Medical High School and later earned her Bachelor's degree from the University of Saints Cyril and Methodius in Skopje. Her early foundation in healthcare instilled a strong sense of discipline, empathy, and service—values that continue to guide her leadership philosophy today.

Throughout her career, Gabriela has partnered with business leaders to navigate complex organizational challenges, empower teams, and build sustainable workplace cultures. She is especially passionate about leadership development, inclusion, and supporting women in their professional journeys.

Beyond her professional work, Gabriela is actively involved in local community initiatives, is a dedicated philanthropist, and proudly serves as a Board Member at Fountainhead.

Gabriela believes that true leadership is not defined by title or authority, but by the courage to act with purpose, the humility to listen, and the commitment to elevate others as you rise.

PANELIST
